WELCOME FROSH!

Newspaper To Sponsor Scholarship

In the closing stages of school last spring a proposal was submitted to the school administration by the ITHACAN editor, Martin J. Shannon, and the ITHACAN faculty advisor, Dr. E. W. Terwilliger, in an effort to create a scholarship fund out of the profits derived from the newspaper.

The IC administration, in a gesture that proved them aware of the importance and influence of the college press, endorsed wholeheartedly the "Ithacan Scholarship Fund," and expressed the desire to cooperate in every way in the administration of the fund.

The fund will consist of the "profits" gained from the operation of the ITHACAN for the school year, and, once in operation, will provide a scholarship of about $1,000.00 ($250. per year) for the selected candidate. This will make the ITHACAN Scholarship the largest offered by the College.

Complete provisions of the scholarship have not been worked out as yet, but the ITHACAN intends to have the finished brochure off the presses by the first of November.

Selection of the candidate will be made sometime in the spring by a Selection Board comprised of two members of the administration and two members of the ITHACAN. The ITHACAN representatives will probably be the editor and the faculty advisor.

Freshmen Must Wear Beanies — Or Face Exposure

All Freshmen will wear their Frosh Caps every day from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. until after the October Frosh Frolics. Upper-classmen may ask a Frosh to "sound off". The Frosh will then give name, dorm, and department. Cases where a Frosh has failed to comply properly will be published in the Oct. 1st. issue of the ITHACAN.

Frosh Week Starts Today

The master of ceremonies for Freshman Week is Dr. John B. MacInnes, associate professor of history. Dr. MacInnes will also act as the freshman class advisor.

Following is the Freshman Week schedule, as prepared by the ITHACAN. It is imperative that you be on time for tests and that you complete them when scheduled. Most students will find it handy to have a full fountain pen with them at all times during this first week.

Monday, Sept. 20

8 a.m.—Frosh music students, music aptitude test. Music Building, Room D.

9 a.m.—Placement tests for all freshmen and transfers. Annex.

1:30 p.m.—Freshmen Music students only, background test. Music building, Room D.

New Dean Takes Over Gen. Coll.; Succeeds Clarke

Two changes in administrative positions at Ithaca College have been announced for the coming year by President Leonard B. Job, affecting two top level jobs.

Dr. Warren L. Hickman, Dean of the University, Ohio Northern University, Ada, Ohio, has been appointed Dean of the General College of Ithaca College, effective Sept. 1.

Dr. Earl E. Clarke, Dean of the General College, has been named Dean of Students, a newly-created position.

Dr. Hickman was awarded a bachelor of arts degree, with honors, in 1943 by Colgate University. He earned his master's degree at Columbia after serving with the Army during World War II. He was awarded the degree of Doctores Sciences Politiques by the University of Geneva, Geneva, Switzerland, in 1949, majoring in international relations. That year he joined the faculty of Ohio Northern University as associate professor of history, and became academic dean of the University in 1951.

The General College of which Dr. Hickman will be dean includes the departments of Liberal Arts, Speech, Drama, Radio, and Business.

Dean Clarke, in his new post, will be in charge of the many and varied activities related to student life, including the duties generally handled by a dean of men.

President Job said that "in making the new assignment, we have been conscious of the opportunities and responsibilities of the office of Dean of Students, and we believe that Dean Clarke's special interests fit him admirably for the job."

For about four years during the last World War Dr. Clarke was director of the USO in San Juan, Puerto Rico. He was vicepresident and then for two years acting president of the Polytechnic Institute, San German, Puerto Rico. He was, for a long period, a high school principal and superintendent of schools, and the North Dakota state director of WPA education. He became dean of the General College of Ithaca College in 1948.

Ithacan To Meet Thurs. at 7 p.m. All Must Attend

The year's first meeting for the staff of the ITHACAN will be held in the newspaper office in the basement of Williams Hall at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 23.

All present staff members are required to attend the meeting and an invitation is also extended to any persons, Frosh included, who would be interested in working on the newspaper for the coming year.

Because of the close scheduling of publication dates this year and the expected increase in size of the paper, it is imperative that all editors and their staffs attend this meeting.

Welcome Back, Seniors!

Seeing that most of this issue seems to be directed to the incoming Frosh, we thought it would be nice if someone said a few comforting words to the returning sophs, juniors, and seniors.

At first glance I doubt if you'll notice any change in the ole' place—externally it's just about the way we left it last spring. Internally, though, we think there's been some improvements.

The first change that will probably meet your eye is the increase in teaching staff, something we expected with the increase in enrollment. I hope we can tell the new instructors from the students—it seems that college teachers are getting younger looking every year.

Another change we'd like you to notice is the mess that the men's lounge is in. (That's where the new snack bar is supposed to be!) This being the first issue and all that, we'll say no more. But watch for the complete story in the next issue.

Several events took place over the summer on the IC' campus. A summer theater group called The Green Room Circle players utilized the Green Room for their four productions, including "Come Back, Little Sheba," and "I Am A Camera." The mainstays of the troupe included such Ithaca College illuminaries as Bob Moss, '54; Jose Polansky, '55; and Jim Hashim, '55.

The York State Craft Fair, a display of various crafts ranging from the spinning of dog hair into cloth to the pottery making craft, was held in the Annex in August and was acclaimed a decided success by the hundreds of people who visited the exhibits. Craftsmen from all over the eastern United States were represented.

Another change for this year, which we hope is an omen of things to come, is the transfer of the Bombers football practice from the Percy Field annex to the College athletic field on South Hill. We don't expect to make the change all in one jump, but even little moves like this are better than sitting still.

School Spirit - That old Bugaboo

It seems to us that the favorite editorial topic for a school paper's first issue (or any other issue when the editor can't think of anything else to write about) is "School Spirit." In such an editorial the editor invariably complains the lack of school spirit. This lack is usually true of most schools and colleges, and, we're sorry to say, IC is no different. However, we have a different type of problem. The Students of IC do have school spirit—but not for the College as a whole! The average IC student in the past has been concerned with his own department and has paid little or no attention to the other departments of the College. This situation shouldn't exist in a college the size of Ithaca, and it is up to the students, especially the incoming Freshmen, to do something about it. Part of our college education is in getting to know our classmates. We should meet students of other departments and show an interest in what they are studying. We can't get a well rounded education or have any fun by burying ourselves in our own department, so let's get out and students of the whole College and not just one part of it. You might even be surprised to find out that what the other fellow is doing is just as interesting as what you're doing.

Editor from the past . . .

Over two million students will enroll at 1851 colleges and universities throughout the United States this month. This enrollment exceeds the enrollment in 1920 by over 1½ million. The Bureau of Labor Statistics conservatively estimates enrollments to reach 4 million by 1970. More liberal estimates are a staggering 5½ million students. And yet, only 129 of every 1000 students in grade school today will enter college. What is more astounding is that 50 students of these 1000 will complete college studies.

These few facts merely indicate that each year more and more people are coming to realize the importance of a college degree. Since (Con't. bottom col. 3 and 4)

Question: Why do you think Freshman camp gives a Frosh a better start at I. C.?

Joe Polansky:

Freshman Camp aids and orientates the Freshman relative to faculty policy, class methods and the aspects of College life necessary for a happy fruitful, and abundant four years at I. C. It gives them a preview of what's in store for them at college. Here's hoping they get off on the right foot.

Jim McKenna:

It gives a Freshman a chance to become acquainted with his classmates, instructors, and the college way of life.

Lloyd Meeker:

It affords an opportunity for the Freshmen to familiarize themselves with an entirely new way of life.

Frank Srianni:

It gives them more opportunity to meet other students and to make them feel at home.

Shirley Miller:

It gives them a chance to get acquainted with more people faster, better, and quicker.

Sue Wilbur:

It gives them a chance to have the friendly guidance of the upperclassmen.

Dean Clarke:

It gives them a chance to get acquainted in an informal environment before they find themselves in a more formal one.

Clair Capitanio:

It gives the Frosh a chance to learn the College routine and to meet one another before classes begin.

Sylvia Parks:

It gives them an opportunity to have fun and to learn things about the school that they don't already know.

Fluffy Baldwin:

It adjusts them to their surroundings and gets them acquainted with upperclassmen and classmates.

Full House at Bombers' Game

A full house watching one of last year's basketball games at the Seneca Gym. In the past several years the trend has been toward more and more spectator attendance at Ithaca College sporting events, and this season, with the added enrollment, it is expected to reach an all time high. With Friday evening football games coming up under the Percy Field lights, record crowds are expected to be on hand to watch (quite audibly, we hope) the IC Bombers attempt to regain their gridiron stature of yore.

A Note from Ben Light

DEAR FROSH.

Ithaca College has, for the most part, completed its schedules for the year. We again strive to play the highest caliber of opposition. We will have a six game football schedule, a nine game soccer schedule, twenty-two games in basketball, six track meets, and we hope to have respectable schedules in baseball, tennis, and golf. Our difficulty is in trying to get teams of good caliber to play us in baseball.

We would like all our students to participate, if they are able, in athletic activities. You may contact the coaches for information as to calls for candidates, "try outs," and we always need managers.

If you cannot participate actively, we certainly look forward to your participation as a spectator and the stimulation you would give our teams in cheering them on.

Counseling Office

The Counseling Office does much more than counsel, although this activity is the primary reason for the existence of the office. And counseling is not necessarily as formal as it seems.

Of what does "counseling" consist? Often it is just your discussion or explanation of something that bothers you. The very act of talking about a situation and hearing your own words, may clear up your difficulty. If not, an indication of the various possible ram-

Guest Editorial By Old Hand At It

The editor from the past, as noted in this issue's third editorial, is Joe Palmieri. He was editor-in-chief of the ITHACAN during the 1952-53 year, and is largely responsible for the advent of advertising in this newspaper.

At our request, Joe consented to do a "guest editorial" for our first issue this year. He admits to being a little out of practice at this "editor game", but welcomed the chance to try his hand at it again.

For those of us that were in IC at the time, we will more than likely remember Joe for his journalistic expose's, which once again proved "the power of the press", even the ITHACAN.

the turn of the century the changing economic conditions and international situations, to cite an example, have forced industry and government to demand trained individuals capable of handling responsibility with an optimistic outlook for the future.

You are extremely fortunate to have the abilities, opportunities, and resources to attend college this fall. To use an old stilted phrase, which still gives good advice: "Make the most of it." If a college student's grades are only high enough to permit a "skin-of-the-teeth" passing, remember, he is still more adequately prepared to cope with his problems of the future than is the high school valedictorian with no college degree at all.

Learning is like walking through telescopic rooms. Each room is bigger than the previous. As you "learn" your way to the next room—completely absorbing the knowledge the present room contains—you feel you have reached a zenith, only to walk into a much larger room more rich than the previous. You are sure that this room is certainly the end to learning only to find the rooms of knowledge become larger and wealthier. There is no last room.

You can say without reservation, "the more you know, the less you know." With this opportunity I want to congratulate the Ithacan and its staff for establishing a very fine scholarship fund for a worthy high school applicant.

Alumni Were Freshmen Once

by Lillian S. Vail

Alumni Secretary

Now, as the college opens for its 63rd year it is a pleasure to report to freshman and other undergraduates about the former students we now call alumni.

Beginning as a Conservatory of Music in 1892 in a small house on East Seneca Street, our school has expanded to train as many as a thousand and more a year for various professions. During this growth the physical plant has been extended to accommodate the various schools and departments which have been added.

The Williams School of Expression and Dramatic Art was the first affiliated school. Later, courses in Public School Music were offered and the School of Health and Physical Education was started. The Conway Band School, and Martin School of Speech Correction were units added even before our school received its charter as Ithaca College in 1931. The newer departments of Radio, Business and Physiotherapy already add many alumni to the growing mailing list.

All of these alumni comprise a group inherently fitted for and especially trained for positions which carry on the great work of a democracy like ours.

In teaching and training and aiding the youth of America our alumni are "reaching the hearts and minds of men."

During the summer months many IC graduates continued various phases of their professional work. This took them to summer camps as directors, or counselors of athletics and recreation, dramatics, swimming and music. They head Youth Bureaus and "Y" activities, some are in "pro" baseball, others in summer stock, opera, orchestra, and bands.

Many who teach were pursuing graduate studies here at Ithaca College or at other colleges and universities. Quite a number attained advanced degrees this year. Several physiotherapists have sent announcements of the opening of their offices. Some are with clinics and some in hospitals. Employment in banks and industrial plants, as accountants in Insurance offices and stores keep alumni of the business school busy. TV positions, radio program and station management and personnel management are positions held by graduates of the Speech, Drama and Radio Departments. Also hundreds of women now married and recorded as "home makers" are contributing their talents in their respective communities in the fields of work they studied at Ithaca College.

Happily there are alumni who (Con't. on page 7, col. 1)

Most of these college level courses will be conducted between 7 and 9 p.m., Monday through Thursday, or on Saturday, 10 to 12 a.m.

Qualified persons may pursue studies toward undergraduate and graduate degrees in Business, Education and Social Science, Music Education, and Health and Physical Education.

Classified Ads Now To Be Seen In Ithacan

Commencing with this issue of the ITHACAN there will be a "Classified" ad section in each issue throughout the year. This service is being offered in answer to a demand for a medium to exchange information and to advertise individual goods and services other than the bulletin boards.

With the expected increase in enrollment the bulletin boards will now become more of a mess than ever, but will still remain satisfactory for the "announcement" type of notice, such as forthcoming dances, etc.

The individual or organization that desires to advertise something, be it goods for sale, services to be rendered, rides wanted or proffered, or any classification of advertising for that matter, will find the school newspaper to be the ideal medium.

The service will be offered at nominal rates, the revenue of which is not expected to much more than cover the printing costs. The first classified ad section of the year appears on page 8 of this issue.

Musically

by Larry Roy

Music is a glorious end in itself and with the start of another school year the many new students at Ithaca College will have a world of sound opened for them. It is to these new students, the class of '58, that this article is directed.

It will be you, Freshman, who this year will suddenly be allowed into the mystery of music. You've had music training in high school and you probably think that you know a great deal about it—and perhaps you do. But now you are about to delve quite a bit deeper into the mechanics of the art; the who, what, when, and how. You will be exposed to music as never before.

Every waking minute will be devoted to the production and/or listening to music. You will eat, talk, and, no doubt, even sleep music.

You will be carefully guided along every step of the way through your adventure in music. Your guides will be the many fine teachers here who will unlock for you this treasure chest of sound. Teachers in the classrooms are not the only guides to the understanding and enjoyment of good music, however. There are three quite worthwhile fraternities on the campus that are devoted almost exclusively to music.

For the men there is either Kappa Gamma Psi or Phi Mu Alpha. For the girls there is Sigma Alpha Iota, sister organization to PMA. One of the primary functions of these organizations is to turn music into something alive and moving. They present at various times during the school year recitals and musicales covering music from pre-Bach to post-Stravinsky.

Phi Mu Alpha presents frequent informal recitals in the living room of their house. Kappa Gamma Psi sponsors an original composition recital every term, written and presented by the student authors.

Almost every week there is a recital of one kind or another going on somewhere. Faculty recitals as well as student affairs are quite common here at IC, as you will note as the term progresses. Once a year the combined efforts of the Music and Drama departments result in our annual opera. Carousal was last year's presentation and turned out to be one of the most successful productions ever done on the IC stage. The various music organizations such as Concert Band, Orchestra, Choir, Glee Club, Marching Band, etc., have all been organized for your participation. Participate and you have a wonderful year ahead of you.

LIBRARY LISTS RULES AND REGS

Most library books may be charged out by students and faculty. Periodicals, reference books, rare items, documents, and special collections are restricted to use in the building, except by special permission. See also, RESERVED BOOKS, below. Unbound materials circulate at the discretion of the librarian.

LOANS AND RENEWALS

1. Books may be borrowed by undergraduate students for one week (7 days); by graduate students and faculty members for two weeks (14 days).

2. A book not yet overdue or on the day due, may be renewed, provided that it has not been reserved for another borrower (student or faculty). Undergraduates may renew a borrowed volume for two additional 7-day periods (two renewals); graduate students and faculty members for one additional 14-day period (one renewal). The library is not geared to accommodate special borrowing arrangements or loans over extended periods.

RESERVED BOOKS

1. Personal Reserves. Any book which is charged out at the time requested may be reserved for a prospective borrower at the Loan Desk. The requesting person will be informed by college-mail when this book is available. Reserve books will be held at the Loan Desk for a period of 3 days, thereafter they will be returned to the stacks as available for circulation.

2. Reserves for Courses. Faculty members often select a number of books and materials for the use of students in a special course. Such reserved shelf materials circulate according to arrangements between the instructor and the librarian. In view of the limited holdings of the library and the possibility of overlapping requests by various instructors, reserves for courses should be held to an absolute minimum. As soon as the materials are not needed any more, the reservation should be withdrawn at once. The librarian will cancel reservations on all materials remaining unused over a period of more than 2 weeks.

3. As a rule not more than one book at a time may be taken from the reserved shelf and checked out at the Loan Desk for use in the Reading Room. The borrower is responsible for returning the book to the Loan Desk.

4. Reserve books may be taken out for over-night use ½ hour before the library closes. These books are due fifteen minutes (15 minutes) after the library opens the following day. Students may file requests for over-night use of reserve books.

FINES

All users of the library, without exception, are charged a fine of two cents (2c) per day for overdue books. Failure to return a reserved book on time results in a fine of twenty-five cents (25c) for the first hour or fraction thereof, and ten cents (10c) for each succeeding hour or fraction thereof. If a reserved book is taken from the library without permission, its user is liable to a fine of one dollar ($1.00).

Failure to charge books from the stacks at the Loan Desk will incur a fine of $1.00 and may result in forfeiture of stack privileges.

All fines are due immediately, and must be paid in cash. Proceeds from fines are used for the purchase of small equipment needed to improve the services of the Library.

STACK ENTRANCE

The stacks are open to all users who have a need to consult them. Undergraduates obtain permission to enter the stacks at the Loan Desk. The Circulation Librarian will request identification of all students and faculty members unknown to him. All books taken from the stacks must be charged out whether used in the reading room or for home use. Failure to do so will incur a fine of one dollar ($1.00) and may result in forfeiture of stack privileges.

RECORDS, FILMS, SLIDES—

and other materials, the use of which requires devices not available in the Library, may be charged out under the conditions pertaining to restricted materials. They are in all respects treated as holdings of the Library.

Phi E.K. is Only Nat'l Phy.Ed. Frat.

Phi Epsilon Kappa is the only National Honorary Physical Education Fraternity for men in the country. Its colors are black and gold, and its chapters are located in large colleges and universities from Maine to California. Dean Laurence S. Hill, Professor Herbert Broadwell, Professor Joseph Hamilton, and Professor Vinup are among the members of Phi Epsilon Kappa on our campus.

The activities carried on by Phi Epsilon Kappa are varied and numerous. The magazines published by the national office of the Fraternity are The Black and Gold, and The Physical Educator. The Most Valuable Player awards for the major sports at Ithaca College are one of the projects carried out by this group of students. The Intramural Basketball League, Sports Circus, and the Annual Sweethearts Ball, given on St. Valentine's Day, are among the other projects carried on by the fraternity.

Members of Phi Epsilon Kappa are active in all the sports of the college. They are also very active in the newly organized Gymnastics Team. The Chapter of Ithaca College was created at I.C. in 1942. It's officers for the coming season are:

Glee Club Issues Call for Members

All male students, graduate or undergraduate, interested in choral singing are urged to contact Professor Donald Bube as soon as possible at his studio, room 33, on the third floor of the main building (above the President's office). Formation of the 1954-55 Men's Glee Club is now in progress; new faces and voices are always welcome. It is not necessary that you have the best voice in the world, men, nor is the Glee Club limited only to those in the Music Department.

Anyone may join. All that's required is a will to work, a reasonable amount of sightreading ability, and an honest appreciation of fine choral music. If you feel that you can meet these qualifications, and no doubt you can, come join our ranks.

A NOTE TO FRESHMEN . . .

A special invitation to join us, along with good wishes to all of you for the coming year, is extended by the members of the Glee Club of the college. We of the club extend also a hearty, sincere welcome to each of you, one and all, here at IC for the first time. WELCOME!!!!

In other words, men, let's get with it. Join the Glee Club . . . now!

The State Park Commission has requested the cooperation of all college groups using park facilities in the following respects:

1. Observe the closing hour of the park, 10 P.M., leaving the park premises not later than this specified time.

2. Observe the regulation that cars are never to be driven off park pavements onto the grass.

3. Refrain from removing any branches from shrubbery or trees (sticks for hot dogs have levied a heavy toll on the park landscaping).

4. Observe the regulation regarding the serving of beverages in park shelters. The Commission plans to enforce this regulation strictly.

Senior Spot

by Sally Applegate

Blessed is the person who knows how to enjoy life. If you think that sounds deep and philosophical, you're wrong. It's not ancient philosophy, it's a fact and it's the only way to start a column about George Lamkins.

George was born in Creston, Iowa, went to high school in Baltimore, Maryland, and joined the marine corps in Oakland, California in 1946. Appalled at his lack of travel, the marine corps sent him to China, Guam, and Japan for two years. After he was discharged, George joined the reserves. In two more years he was serving with the reserves in Korea. About his discharge two years later George says, "I left Korea by popular demand." Actually, he left Korea by popular demand of a 60mm shell.

When George had recovered sufficiently, he came to Ithaca College in September of 1951. He registered in the business department and began a series of activities of which he can be justly proud. He organized the local churches in a porchlight pickup of clothing which collected nine tons of clothing for Korean children. For World Service he was co-chairman of a dinner that made $300 for the repairing of needy homes of welfare families. George was in Scampers of '52.

George managed the soccer team in his sophomore year. He also scored a dramatic triumph in Hamlet by wearing a different helmet from anybody else in the army he was fighting with. During this time, he also developed a sincere and active interest in the Friday afternoon matinees that were taking place in various local establishments.

George started his junior year as president of the junior class and vice-president of MAC. He was co-chairman of the blood bank for his third consecutive year. He joined IDEO and he did "various and assorted sundry jobs" on the Ithacan such as photography and news items. He had the honor of being official procurer of script typists for TAP, a job which he described in glowing terms as a "big headache." He was business manager of Scampers and still managed to keep a check on the recreational activities of the local establishments on Friday afternoons. All this and matinees too?

This year George is "going to try to graduate." He is advertising manager of the Ithacan and photography editor of the Cayugan. He is the chairman of this year's Scampers about which he is very enthusiastic. He is the Student Council representative from MAC. When George graduates, he would like to find some sort of work overseas — "bigger and better money." What kind of a job? Well his hobbies are photography and sex.

Physio-Facts

Amongst our many sciences and specialized fields in medicine we find ourselves not lacking in importance. Whatever the ulterior motive may be for choosing any one of the fields, the significant factor rests in the accomplishments.

Four years of what? For what? We are trained for the mental and physical requirements which befit the profession. We are coaxed, guided and pushed into trains of thought relevant to physiotherapy.

This is physiotherapy. It isn't an assembly line for mass production of "new" arms and legs. "With these hands" — and hearts the story of polio becomes a dramatic one. Here, there are no awards for herohship—but the intangible feeling of fulfillment—for a job well done. The reward stands as another mark in an old science—a young profession.

DEAR FRESHMEN:

You have already noticed the "Welcome Flag" is out for each and all of you. You have come to a college where the individual is important. The individual is each of you.

Your numbers indicate that we shall have a wonderful four years together. At least, they should be good years. They will most certainly be if you try as hard to make them good as we officers and professors will try to do our share. It will be a matter of sharing. None of us can do anything for you if you do not try equally to make these the best four years of your life. We expect that you will try and this is our promise that you will not be alone in your endeavor.

DEAR FRESHMEN:

It is rather generally assumed that a college man or woman exemplifies certain characteristics which set him apart from others. Some say, "You can tell a college man." How? By the way he talks, wears his clothes, walks, by a certain manner or bearing? Perhaps. If it is true that there is a certain superficial pattern to which consciously or unconsciously the undergraduate seeks to mold himself, this is cause for little concern. However, in a desire to conform too closely to the mores of any society, a person may lose much of the individuality which makes him most attractive to others. "Be yourself" is an admonition which should be taken literally. Excellence in any type of activity reflects self discipline and distinguishes the individual. The college society sets certain minimum standards of academic and social conduct. But the faculty and administration attempts to provide opportunities for initiative and individual expression while keeping regimentation at a minimum.

May members of the Class of 1958 bring added enrichment to life at Ithaca College through the expression of individuality while discovering that the degree of conformity expected is no more than that of any well regulated institution.

Howard I. Dillingham

DEAR FRESHMEN,

The School of Health and Physical Education includes the Department of Physical Education with its Majors in Physical Education or Recreation and the Division of Physiotherapy.

Beginning September, 1954, Ithaca College will offer a four year course of training leading to a B. S. degree with a major in recreation. The demand for trained recreational leadership is on the increase. Job opportunities exist in municipal government, county agencies, the school system, all private or voluntary recreation agencies, the church, the civic patriotic and fraternal groups, industrial recreation and commercial recreation in its manifold aspects. The course of study offered as training for this field is based upon job analysis. The training is essentially practical but not so highly specialized that we lose sight of our responsibility to turn out educated ladies and gentlemen.

All physical education men should plan to go out for one or more freshman or varsity sports or indicate leadership by competing for and acting as managers of athletic teams. It is essential that all students participate in extra curricular campus activities. Your attention is especially called to two organizations with which you should become members, i. e.—the Physical Education Departments' "Majors Club" (all Physical Education and Recreation Major students are eligible) and the Inter Departmental Educational Organization (I.D.E.O.). The Majors Club is affiliated with the New York State and the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. (Read your catalog and Freshmen Handbook.) You will appreciate the importance of demonstrating leadership and responsibility when it comes times during your senior year to seek employment.

Your main objective while in college is to thoroughly prepare yourself in your major and minor fields and to learn and continue to grow in the professional knowledge and skills required in your chosen occupation. This means a budgeting of your time for study, regular attendance of classes, recreation and social life. Members of the faculty will deem it a privilege to assist students in such planning and to give sympathetic counseling of your problems.

We plan for orientation and guidance conferences with freshmen during the first week of the fall semester. It is important that all freshmen majoring in Recreation and Physical Education attend these conferences. The hour and place will be announced at the meeting of all college freshmen on registration day, Tuesday, September 20th.

We are anticipating having you with us and hope for a happy and prosperous college year.

Cordially yours,
Laurence S. Hill

Delta Phi Zeta

Delta Phi Zeta, a local social sorority was founded March 6, 1928 by Mrs. Phyllis Spencer, a former Dean of Women. Delta Phi Zeta, whose membership is composed of women from all the departments in the college, was organized to promote a spirit of unity and friendliness among the women at the college. To realize this worthy objective, the pledges to Delta Phi Zeta are chosen for their leadership, scholarship, and personality. Each year Delta Phi Zeta has its traditional Mad Hatter's Ball and Pledge Formal. Members act as hostesses at the Big Sister Tea and other events.

Adelphi Honors Top Index Students Of Freshman Class

Adelphi is the Freshman honorary society of Ithaca College. It is open to second term freshmen and transfer students who possess a cumulative index of 70 or over.

Adelphi's biggest project for the year is its annual banquet at which the initiation of new members takes place. Its long term project of fulfilling its pledge for the new campus is being pursued with vigorous energy by its new officers. Plans for future activities are being contemplated by the president, John Seely.

DEAR FRESHMEN,

The term "General College" is an administrative title used to designate the combination of five departments administered by the Dean of the General College. Those departments are Business, Drama, Liberal Arts, Radio, and Speech, each with its own chairman. Department chairman serve as counselors for all students registered in their respective departments and the dean offers his services to all General College students who care to discuss their problems with him.

right to do as you wish. No one ever has that kind of freedom because we always have to consider those who are about us. Also, "Freedom" does not mean the right to disregard the rules and laws under which all people live, and which were drawn up for the protection and welfare of everyone.

The manner in which you accept the controls which make freedom possible indicates the degree of your maturity and your preparation for independence.

You have my best wishes for a wonderful year

Very sincerely yours,

Right Man Chosen For New Counseling Job

This past summer, a new position in the top administration of Ithaca College was created, the holder of which will bear the title, Dean of Students. We have never had a "dean of students" before, probably the main reason being that there never was a man of just the right capabilities available.

We had a man of the right capabilities in the College — but he just wasn't available. Dr. Earl Clarke was much too tied down with the cumbersome paperwork that goes with being Dean of the General College to make himself available full time to the steady flow of students that came to him for council. He would do what good he could, of course, but with the steady increase in students this was no more than a scratch on the surface.

Finally, with this year's great increase in enrollment, a definite need for a full time student counselor was seen, and the very logical choice of Dr. Clarke was made. In a sense, Dr. Clarke will be doing much the same work as he did before, only now it will be in an official capacity.

Those of us who are juniors and seniors and have spent a few years here at IC know what it means to be able to walk into an office, speak in complete confidence with a man we knew is in a position to help us, and walk out of his office knowing that if there is anything to be done at all, Dr. Clarke will do it.

Sometimes it lifts the world right off your shoulders just to talk your problems over with someone. Other times something more is needed; an explanation, perhaps, a word of encouragement, or maybe just a plain good talking to.

Some of you freshmen may be wondering just what kind of a problem you take to a dean of students. Well, what kind do you have? Are you just a little homesick? Bewildered? Trouble with room mates? Do you need a job? Have trouble making classes? Flunking a course? Want to know what clubs to join? Whether to go fraternity or not? Why your girl (or boy) friend won't kiss you good night after twelve dates?

It isn't funny — that last one is just as real a problem as any of them. Or maybe all these different courses have you confused. Well, Dr. Clarke has been in this education business for a long time, and for our money is the man to see.

On taking on the new position, he said, "I want this office to be the one place that any student, regardless of the type of problem he or she might have, can be sure of finding a sympathetic and understanding ear."

So far I guess you feel that you must have a special problem in order to see Dr. Clarke. Wrong! You need only the power to make it to his office and the desire for stimulating and thought provoking conversation.

Let's Have Another Hit Show This Year

Three scenes from last year's smash hit production of Rodger and Hammerstein's "Carousel." The musical marked the first time that a current Broadway hit show was produced here at the College, and turned out to be such a success that four regular performances and an extra Sunday performance were completely sold out days in advance. This is the one yearly stage production that the departments of Music and Drama combine their talents into one huge effort, although no dramatic undertaking here at IC is ever strictly limited to either department. Bill Carrozo, '55, of the Business department, sang the male lead, Billy Bigelow, and Joanne Manwiller, '54, Music department, played the part of Julie Jordan. "Carousel" pictured the undying love of Julie for the stubborn, defensive Billy. Although he truly feels love and compassion for Julie, Billy is guided by his independence of character, is never moved to show his true feeling until he dies.

Appointments Made To Business Dept. And Dining Hall

Two new appointments to the Ithaca College staff were announced by President Leonard B. Job.

Frank W. Kolmin of North Conway, N. H., has been appointed assistant professor of accounting in the Department of Business. Mrs. Emma-Jean Cole of 921 Taughannock Blvd. has been named dietitian, supervising the dining hall.

Kolmin, a native of Austria, is a graduate of the University School of Commerce in Vienna. He received the degree of master of business administration from New York University in 1950, and has taken additional work toward a Ph.D. degree.

From 1942 to 1945 Kolmin was educational officer for the British Colonial Government in Tanganyika Territory, British East Africa. Since 1956 he has been employed as office manager and cost accountant for New York City firms, and for five years was with the Eastman School of Business, New York as an instructor in accounting and taxation.

Mrs. Cole, a graduate of Beaver, Pa., High School, earned a bachelor of science degree in home economics at Pennsylvania State University in 1952. She majored in institutional management.

For a year Mrs. Cole was a dietitian in a women's dining hall at Penn State. Last year she was associated with Mann Library at Cornell.

The Varsity Club

The Varsity Club, which strives to promote fellowship among lettermen and to create incentive to participate in sports, has come a long way since its installation at Ithaca College in 1948. With over 75 members initiated annually, the Varsity Club plants itself as one of the largest organizations on the campus.

This past Spring, at the Varsity Club annual banquet officers were elected for 1954-55. Robert (Sam) Burnell, varsity basketball player, succeeds George Marko, varsity golf, as president. Tom Carroll, football, succeeds John Ciabotti, wrestling, as vice-president. Caesar George, football, assumes the position of secretary.

Among the outstanding activities the Varsity Club has prepared for the coming year are: the sponsoring of the annual club show, the awarding of letters and sweaters at the annual banquet and finally the picnic held at the end of the Spring term.

SAI Welcomes All Frosh

A big and hearty Hi! to each and every freshman from the girls of SAI. What's SAI, you ask? Well, Sigma Alpha Iota is a National Professional Musical Sorority for Women. It was founded June 12, 1903, at the University School of Music in Ann Arbor. That was 51 years ago, and now there are over 100 college and alumni chapters in the United States. Epsilon, the Ithaca College Chapter, was the fifth to be established.

You can recognize us by our emblem, the Pipes of Pan. Look for us; you'll see us around campus everywhere. And our shingle, the Pipes of Pan, is always out for you at 440 East Buffalo St., so come on up and see us.

Sigma Alpha Iota wishes every freshman a wonderful and successful four years here at Ithaca College. We'll be seeing you!

ifications involved in your problem, pointed out by someone who has lived longer than you have, may help you to look at that which concerns you, in a more objective way. When this is so, you are well on the way to solving your difficulty. When you come to the counseling office, you will not be told what to do, but you will be given every possible assistance in working through your problem satisfactorily, yourself. The counseling process is a good way for you to get acquainted with yourselves and with the service of the counseling office.

Another important fact to remember is that discussions that take place in the counseling office are entirely confidential and, if the student body comes to know the nature of your talks, it is because you or one of your close friends has disclosed your problem.

Do not hesitate to come to the Counseling Office at any time, if only to get acquainted with those of us who work there. You will always find a friend there.

have been vacationing, traveling to see the great National Parks and wonders in our own country and abroad where they attended music, dance and drama festivals. They report visits with class-mates and other interesting trips. Seldom a day went by that someone did not call at the alumni office or another department of the college to introduce a fiancée, husband (or wife) and children. We learned of new positions, new homes or "expected" members of the family.

Those alumni who are serving as officers in the IC Clubs reported summer picnics, meetings, elections and plans for the year. During September the Clubs in Albany, Buffalo, Elmira, Ithaca, Rochester and Binghamton will meet.

An organization meeting scheduled for Sept. 15 for alumni of the Mid-Hudson Valley to be held at the "Y" in Poughkeepsie will be past history by the time you read this.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Muller extended an invitation to alumni of the New York City area to meet at their home, 10 Gracie Square, New York City, the evening of Oct. 22nd. Mr. Muller is the chairman of the Board of Trustees of the college and received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in 1953. Mrs. Muller is a graduate of the college.

Over 50 per cent of our undergraduates have heard about IC from our former students. They could help the secretary by calling at the office and giving us the latest data about the alumni they know. We try to secure this through correspondence and personal contact but must check the records constantly to keep them up to date.

The IC Alumni Council met in late June. The chairman reports that they have approved membership in the American Alumni Council. The leading colleges and universities in the country are members of this council. The new constitution for our alumni association is now being mailed to all alumni for their approval.

Of course the Service has claimed some who would otherwise be employed. To keep them and others informed about their Alma Mater and the news of alumni organization growth, an IC News Letter is sent periodically. Drop in at the alumni office the end of the month and get a copy of the September "extra" which is mailed to about 5 thousand. The office is located in the 2nd floor rear of the main administration building.

Football Squad Opened Practice Sept. 7

A squad of 40 Ithaca College men reported to the Aurora St. gym on Tuesday, Sept. 7, and left loaded with football pads and gear. These are the boys, mostly freshmen, who journeyed into Ithaca early for the usual pre-school practice and who will form the nucleus for this year's Bomber gridiron combination.

Head coach Joe Hamilton, assisted by staffers Arnie Wilhelm, Herb Broadwell, and Carp Wood, greeted the boys and passed out equipment.

The entire squad was scheduled to take physicals that morning with the year's first actual practice taking place at 3 p.m. in the afternoon. Hamilton will put his squad through two-a-day drills, one at 10 a.m. and the other at 3 p.m. with blackboard drills every evening at 7 p.m. right up till the first game.

Four Ithacans were among the early returnees, three of them lettermen and two of them reporting back after a two-year absence. Len Dworsky, back, and Walt Hankinson, guard, two lettermen on the 1951 eleven, are back after tours of duty in Korea. John DeKay, guard, a key man on the 1953 team, is the other returning letterman. Jack Wintermute, a freshman end last year, will be back trying out for end.

JOE HAMILTON

One of Hamilton's toughest problems will be finding replacements for Jack Guinan of Willard, and Clint Miller of Roslyn Heights, both halfbacks last year and both lost to the Army. Guinan saw heavy duty in the line-backing position, and will be a hard man to replace, according to Hamilton.

Two quarterbacks reported the first day, John Filor from Haverstraw and Dan Dudek of Brattleboro, Vt. both seniors this year. Filor was head play-caller last year and is expected to repeat in that capacity this season. He's a good passer.

Gerald Kniffen from Unadilla, a junior, reported in and will fill the center spot vacated by big Bill McFarlane, who won't see any football service this year because of an injury.

Ed Stohrer from South Wales and Mel Cohen, both tackles, are slated for first string duty this fall. About the only change that Hamilton has made to date is the shifting of Stan Weiner, a sophomore from Brooklyn, from his last year's fullback position to an end position.

Hamilton Pleased With South Hill Field For Practice Drills

Joe Hamilton, Ithaca College grid coach, was very happy over the change in practice fields for his squad from North Percy Field to the College's new athletic field on the Danby Rd. The move was a big improvement and came just in time to accommodate one of the largest squads in recent years.

Some of the boys themselves were a little leary about the transportation angle at first, that is, getting back and forth from the field. Actually, though, it isn't much farther to the South Hill field than it was to Percy Field in actual miles—it's just up hill. The College solved that problem for the boys by providing trucks to haul the men and their gear back and forth.

Another of the noticeable improvements was the condition of the ground. A hard, packed turf lacking in grass, such as was to be found at North Percy Field, can be very conducive to injuries. The South Hill field, with its full growth of grass and a soft, moist sod, is the ideal practice ground.

Phi Delta Pi Welcomes Fresh

Phi Delta Pi, the national Phys-ed fraternity for women, welcomes all the Phys-ed and Recreation majors to a happy four years at IC. We have been on the IC campus since 1922 and pride ourselves in the active part we have taken in school affairs.

Our first official event for the year will be a professional meeting Wednesday, Sept. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in Room A in the Senect Gym. At this time we would personally like to meet every one of you and talk about the life of a P.E. and Rec major at Ithaca College.

Plans are still underway for a square dance which will be coming up soon, but we would like to extend our invitation now and urge you all to attend.

Droodle anything you like. And send in as many as you want. If we select yours, we'll pay $25 for the right to use it, together with your name, in our advertising. We're going to print plenty—and lots that we don't print will earn $25 awards.

Draw your Droodles any size, on any piece of paper, and send them with your descriptive titles to Lucky Droodle, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure your name, address, college and class are included.

While you're droodling, light up a Lucky—the cigarette that tastes better because it's made of fine tobacco . . . and "It's Toasted" to taste better.
